Before the Turning Point Conversation

Read through these questions and add a few words wherever useful. You do not need long answers, and 'I'm not sure' is fine. Leave anything you would rather discuss on the call blank. Keep your answers and bring them with you. You do not need to send them beforehand. We will go through them together, so we get a picture of what's going on.

One encounter to talk through

Choose one recent example. There is no need to explain why it happened or work out a solution before we speak.

What was happening just before the difficult moment?

What did your child do or say? What did you do or say?

What were you thinking or feeling at the time?

What happened next? What have you tried on other occasions?

When does this go more easily? What is different then?

Is there anything about time, tiredness, help or family life that we should take into account?
